Project : Picture for Communication

"I want to communicate a social message encouraging hardworking individuals to take a moment and look up at the sky, inspiring them to pause from their busy schedules and appreciate the beauty above"

This image aims to convey the theme of loneliness through a person and a slowly emptying cocktail glass. It seeks to evoke the viewer's understanding of the person's actions in the image, whether they are contemplating while slowly sipping the drink until it's finished or setting the glass down

The image depicts a hungry young man late at night, unable to go out to buy food due to being confined indoors. The photography technique involves using Key light from the refrigerator's light as the main source and portraying loneliness by incorporating darkness around. This conveys solitude and isolation.

The photograph is taken under the concept of self-isolation during COVID-19.
